

Trissential's strength in JD Edwards implementation.

With decades of experience, our team understands what it takes to provide industry leading JD Edwards services for effective results and a higher degree of satisfaction. JD Edwards is a well-recognized and highly effective business application—when applied correctly—for streamlining operations and maximizing organizational effectiveness. But without the skills and experience to implement, support and continuously improve it, the value to the business depreciates rapidly.

Trissential begins by looking holistically at the business environment, grounded in our business model that strengthens the interaction between strategy, management and execution. This “higher view” approach to JD Edwards means that the solution is well-integrated into your business strategies and execution.

In terms of JD Edwards, our service offerings include:

- Implementations, upgrades and migrations
- Project management
- Configurable Network Computing (CNC), application development and integration
- Business process and application tuning
- JDE health check assessment
- Training, mentoring and documentation

The Trissential edge.

Trissential provides an advantage over others who provide JD Edwards services.

Specifically, Trissential offers:

- A legacy of unparalleled client experience. Our clients receive the skills, experience and performance of a global systems integrator, with the partnering experience and flexibility of a small IT organization.
- The strength of one of the most experienced and talented groups of consultants in the business. Few organizations parallel the level of expertise and knowledge leadership that Trissential is able to bring to the table.
- The benefit of employees who are trained and motivated. At Trissential, we create a working environment that makes us a better place to work, allowing us to hire and retain the best consultants in the business.

Trissential changes how businesses improve through the Essential Business Model.

JD Edwards is one area of a larger vision developed by Trissential in order to help businesses develop the skills and tools to lead, manage and execute with increasing effectiveness.

These three key ideas—to lead, manage and execute—are at the core of what Trissential provides our clients that range from Fortune 100 firms to small and medium size businesses. Our business and technology solutions vastly improve decision making at every level of the organization. This has to do with our unique approach: we recognize the interdependency of the three essentials—strategy, management and execution—and understand how success is only truly achieved when they work together. This is the Trissential difference and the Trissential advantage.

OVERVIEW OF THE ESSENTIAL BUSINESS MODEL

Strategic planning that works as well on the spreadsheet as it does in reality.

The executive level of any organization is tasked with selecting and prioritizing the right work—and making sure the business architecture is built to handle it. Trissential's expertise and tools allow you to focus on the work that delivers the highest value by planning with greater clarity.

A clear view of the daily details.

The complexity of business has evolved beyond the tools that management has used for decades. But with a better, more comprehensive toolbox like Trissential provides, you can manage projects so they come in on time and on budget. Trissential's work in this area makes estimating, scheduling and controlling a strength of your organization—which vastly improves both your strategic E1 planning and E3 execution.

The right details to create the ideal product.

E3 offers a tactical approach to executing every project with the highest degree of precision. The Trissential process identifies risks early, puts in place all necessary metrics, allows efficient design and development, makes testing more effective, and reduces any deployment bumps.

For more details about Trissential and the Essential Business Model, visit Trissential.com.

301 CARLSON PARKWAY, SUITE 303
MINNETONKA, MN 55305

PHONE : 952.595.7970

FAX : 952.513.1544

info@trissential.com

www.trissential.com

