Sign Up Now for Project Management Essentials — Three Days of Training in IT Project Management Fundamentals

— September 25-27, 2007 —

Milwaukee, August 29, 2007 — Trissential's Project Management Essentials training builds and enhances the foundation for success in all five area of project management — initiating, planning, executing, monitoring, and closing. Intensive training over three days is designed to improve implementation, lower rework, enhance communication, and enable delivery of projects on time and within budget.

Course participants gain insights into the alignment of tools and techniques within the 44 processes of the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK) and will see how theory is applied to the actual practice of project management. The course is based on Trissential's

ProjeCy® framework, a first-of-its-kind tool for helping IT project managers operationalize the body of knowledge. During the three-day training session, participants take a simulated case-study project through its lifecycle from initiation to close and in the process will earn 24 professional development units (PDUs) from the Project Management Institute. Training will be led by senior project management instructor, Barb Schrage, PMP. The course covers:

- Framing the IT initiative
- Creating an effective plan
- Performing cost estimating and budgeting
- Negotiating time, budget, and deliverables
- Tracking progress and forecasting completion
- Monitoring and control work through earned value, change, and issue management
- Closing an IT project by gaining acceptance

Trissential's Project Management Essentials training costs $1,500 per participant, with a $300 discount for each member of a group of three or more from the same company. Daily lunches and course material are included. Training will be held at Trissential's Hartland, Wisconsin, office, 1120 James Drive, Suite 104. Register by September 10th at www.regonline.com/PMetraining or contact Erin Yearneau for more information at eyearneau@trissential.com or 1-888-595-7970.
