Modeling your Company's Business Capabilities

Presented by: Beth Moran and Beth Pulsipher

We plan to discuss Cargill's approach and experience planning, defining, and beginning to build capability maps for their very large and diverse organization. We'll explore these questions with the group:

- How many Business capability maps are in Cargill?
- How to manage common vs. shared vs. unique business capabilities?
- Who develops and maintains the business capability maps?
- How do we leverage the business capability mapping to create real insight?
- How do we ensure value through knowledge management?
