

Creating the environment for success.

projecty™ E1

The indispensable
C-level prioritization tool.

The ability to make smart business-guiding decisions is central to leadership. But even the most well-crafted spreadsheets can often show only a single dimension of decisions without adequately ranking choices or providing deeper context. Trissential's Projecty E1 improves both the input and enhances the final output—giving you the insight necessary for better decisions.

The fast and reliable Projecty E1 approach ensures that projects which offer the most significant benefit to the company stand out, even when considering dozens or even hundreds of alternate courses of action. While dramatically saving time and effort, Projecty E1 also assists organizations in accurately and consistently allocating resources, both financial and human.

A refined approach to leadership, with clear advantages.

As company executives approach portfolio and project prioritization, Projecty E1 helps by:

- Strengthening the list of inputs across a broader spectrum of mission critical and success-predicting areas of business.
- Saving time and effort by automatically comparing multiple decision dimensions for a thorough approach to sifting through data.
- Generating a valuable list of alternatives in a way that incorporates areas of strength and highlights areas that need additional resources in order to be viable.
- Fitting in a truly customized manner to every organization and unique project, eliminating hard-to-maintain and inflexible enterprise project management systems.
- Providing keen insight into resource allocation, making sure the financial capital and human resources go where they will be the most advantageous to the ongoing strength of your organization.
- Aligning your business seamlessly to areas like IT, to make sure your technology footprint fits your business needs.

How Projecty E1 works.

Projecty E1 is a decision framework that, in addition to the numeric inputs, asks the questions many overlook in decision making—the items that often aren't located on a spreadsheet. Is your organization organized appropriately for your vision? Are the necessary people in the right places? Do you have the appropriate tools and processes in place?

Decision conversations become broader than “is it a good idea,” to “do we have the ability to execute appropriately?” and “how do we need to realign our organization for success?” Better information makes for sounder decisions.

And using the system could not be easier. Any authorized executive will be able to log onto Projecty E1 and enter information on the proposed initiative. A menu-driven format ensures each proposal presents the business case, anticipated return on investment, and all vital enterprise-critical pieces of information. Projecty E1 analyzes and prioritizes proposals based on overall value, organizational capacity and return objectives.

Projecty.

The key to creating a business that's always improving.

Projecty brand software applications enable organizations to predict and guide project outcomes—the word Projecty combines project and prophecy. In addition to Projecty E1 for executive portfolio and project prioritization, Trissential offers Projecty E2 software, a first of its kind application for helping project and portfolio management operationalize the Project Management Body of Knowledge (PMBOK). A third Trissential tool, Projecty E3, allows projects to be executed with the highest degree of precision—with necessary metrics, requirements, design, testing and deployment tools built in.

301 CARLSON PARKWAY, SUITE 303
MINNETONKA, MN 55305

PHONE : 952.595.7970

FAX : 952.513.1544

info@trissential.com

www.trissential.com

Trissential is a management consulting and project execution organization specializing in business improvement. Trissential Essentialists help companies achieve desired results through the effective alignment of strategy with efficient management and exceptional execution.

For more details about Trissential and our Essential Business Model, visit Trissential.com.